Tanisha Davis joined Archstone Foundation in 2004 and has over a decade of programmatic and grants management experience in the philanthropic sector. During her time at Archstone Foundation she has overseen a portfolio of funded projects and provided support for the Foundation’s communications. Tanisha works closely with Archstone Foundation staff, grantees, and potential applicants, to ensure the alignment with the Foundation’s vision and mission.

In her current role as Grants Manager, she is responsible for the development and implementation of systems and procedures that facilitate an efficient and effective grantmaking process. She is currently leading the transition to an online grantmaking process which will be launched in summer 2019.

Tanisha holds a Master’s degree from the University of Southern California (USC) Davis School of Gerontology, and a Bachelor’s degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in Information Systems from California State University, Fullerton. She is a member of PEAK Grantmaking, an association of grants management professionals, and in 2008 chaired the southern California region of the association, then known as Grants Managers Network (GMN).
